

interaction in humans needs to be verified by studies in humans. Therefore, further investigations in humans are necessary to develop our findings.

Our recommendation in the time being is not to take candesartan with pomegranate juice due to its potential interaction.