

Structural differences from feldene (piroxicam) involve the replacement of the 2-amino pyridine group at 3- carboxamide position of the benzothiazine-1,1 dioxide system by 5-methyl-1, 3- thiazole, which resulted in that selectivity between the two COX isozymes (Fig. 1.16).