

Landscape Architecture has long influenced the integration of highways with California communities.