The Silver Collective

A quarter of a century in the one trade is a fair accolade for any craftsman, and definitely worth a celebration or two. Madrid-based fashion designer Roberto Verino has confidently attained this time-served milestone, and his Spring/Summer 2008 collection is a true illustration of the expertise and dexterity he's soaked up on the way. The collection is a celebration, not only of this achievement, but of the liberation our warmer seasons bring to the consciousness.
