

July 3

Keep company with those worshippers who always call upon their Lord in the morning and the afternoon, longing for His favor.

Do not turn away from them to seek instead the glitter of this earthly life.
And do not take up with anyone who follows low desires and whose heart has been made heedless of Our remembrance,
for that person's affairs will be chaotic.

18:28

July 4

Wealth and children
are sources of much enjoyment in this life, but good deeds have everlasting value and are even better for gaining reward and hope from your Lord.

Remember the coming Day [of Judgment], when We shall cause mountains to move and you will see the earth in upheaval.

On that Day,
We will gather all people together,
leaving out no one.
And they will appear in rows
before your Lord,
and be given an audience.