

November 7

It is God who made the sea to serve you, so that ships could sail through it
with divine permission;
thus you may seek out God's bounty and be grateful.

God also made everything in the heavens and in the earth
available to serve you.
Surely in all of this there are clear signs for those who would reflect.

Ask the faithful to forgive those nonbelievers who have no hope for Judgment Day, when God will settle accounts with everyone according to what he or she earned in this earthly life.
Those who perform good deeds benefit their own souls;
those who do evil likewise harm themselves.
But in the end, you all shall return to your Lord.

45:12-15

November 8

On Judgment Day, the nonbelievers will be told,
'We forget you now, as you forgot about facing this Day.

Your new home is to be in Hellfire
and as of today, you have no friends.

This is because you mocked God's revelation and let yourselves be deceived by worldly living.'

On that day

the nonbelievers will find themselves trapped forever in Hellfire, unable to return to earth

for another chance to live as believers and do good deeds.

All praise is due to God,

the Lord of heavens and earth,

the Lord of the worlds, of the Universe.

God is All-Greatness in heaven and earth,

the All-Mighty and the All-Wise.
