

December 8

The heart of whoever believes is guided by God,
Who knows well everything that is.

Obey God and the Messenger.
But if you turn away from obedience to God
and the Messenger,
then you should know that our Messenger's job is only to clearly inform.

God. There is no god but He; there is no other.
Believers can trust in God.

64:11-13

December 9

Your wealth and family may be a trial to your faith, but God has the greatest reward in store.

Therefore, fear and revere God with your utmost ability.

Listen, obey, and spend charitably, and all will be better for you.

Those who guard themselves from lapsing into miserly self-interest are the truly successful ones, for when you give back to God in full measure by spending charitably, you will be rewarded multifold and with forgiveness.

God is the Most Thankful, the Most Forbearing, the All-Mighty, the All-Wise, the One who knows all of what is seen and unseen.

64:15-18