

Our Lord!

You never break a promise:
grant us what You promised through all Your Messengers, and do not humiliate us on the Day of Judgment.'

Then the Lord accepted their prayers, saying 'Never will I lose sight of any of your deeds,
be you male or female,
for you all sprung one from the other.'

Surely God does not treat anyone unfairly, even as slightly as the weight of an atom.
But He rewards good deeds many times over and from His riches grants a great reward.
